DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 14, 1833.

The atmospheric phenomenon, which occurred on last Wednesday morning, seems to have attracted much attention. We published, yesterday, a notice of it by a gentleman living in town, and to day, one from a gentleman residing six or eight miles in the country. We are anxious to learn how great is the extent of country through which this extraordinary appearance has been visible, and would also be pleased to receive, from some of our friends, an explanation of the nature of this phenomenon.

ROBBERY, AND PROBABLE ATTEMPT TO MURDER.—On last Tuesday evening, about 10 o'clock, a wagoner, of the name of Evans, was driving along the Greensburg turnpike road, about ten miles from this city, when a man joined him and walked some distance with him. As they passed a stone quarry, near the road, the stranger took up a bar of iron, which was used for picking holes for blowing, and stated that he was going to take it to a blacksmith's shop to have it sharpened. Soon afterwards, however, he fell behind the wagoner and struck him a tremendous blow, with the bar of iron, which broke his jaw and knocked him senseless on the ground. He then took from his pocket book about seventy five dollars and made his escape. A tavern keeper, living close by, seeing the team going along without the driver, suspected that some accident had happened, and, after a short search, found poor Evans still senseless on the road. He is, however, now considered out of danger. Two persons have been arrested upon suspicion—the result of the examinations we have not yet heard.

WILLIAM J. DUANE.—The letter, from this gentleman, which we published in our daily paper, yesterday, and which will also be found in our weekly paper, will, we presume, expose him to all the wrath and billingsgate of the partisans of the president. His denunciation of the removal of the deposits is plain and unequivocal—he considers that act "unwise, unnecessary, vindictive, arbitrary, and unjust." His opinion is entitled to more weight from the circumstance that he has always been opposed to the Bank, and from the fact that he has proved his sincerity and honesty by giving up an office worth six thousand dollars per year, rather than do that which he now condemns as "arbitrary, unwise, vindictive, and unjust." He certainly stands on strong ground—partisans may assail him—hirelings may calumniate him—but his position is impregnable; and he may confidently exclaim to his revilers, "Cease vipers, you bite against a file."

In the Advocate, of this morning, we find the following sentence—

"The history of parties, in this country, shows that the federal party were favorable to high powers—they were in favor of what they called "a strong government," by which they meant the reposing of power in the hands of the president and senate."

This seems, to our mi nd, to be rather equivocal in its meaning.—If it meant to assert that the federal party were in favor of placing some powers in the President and the Senate, we would at once admit it to be true; and would contend that, in so doing, that party only carried into effect the true spirit and design of the constitution. That instrument, for instance, gives to the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, the power of making treaties; and, also, of making appointments.

If, on the other hand, the editor of the Advocate means to assert that the federal party were in favor of reposing all the powers of the government in the hands of the President, then the assertion is made without a shadow of evidence to sustain it—so that this sentence is either a truism, or a calumny, as it may be understood.

As to the assertion, that the federal party were in favor of high powers, it is true.—That party was favorable to a constitution which would give to the general government power to resist the encroachments of the different states. They were in favor of a federal government which could put down Nullification, whether it should show itself in Pennsylvania, Virginia, South Carolina, or Alabama; whether it should be conceived by Jefferson, or brought to maturity by Calhoun or Gayle. The federal party was favorable to such power as was exercised by Jackson, in December last; but they were never favorable to such high handed measures as were adopted by Jefferson against Livingston, in the Batture case, or by Jackson, in the removal of the deposits.

It is true, as the Advocate asserts, that the cabinet is now filled by old federalists, but is also true that these men have cast their skins, and have become old democrats after the new fashion.—It is undeniably true, that in every section of our country, old federalists, with easy consciences—men who were willing to take any name, provided it was rendered palatable by a good office—have monopolized a great share of the best offices. But it is not true that they have taken them openly and boldly, as federalists; but, on the contrary, they have, in every case, been compelled to rely on the easy gullibility of the enlightened democracy of the country.—In every case they have submitted to be dipped in the dye, or to receive, at least, a rough wash.

For the Gazette.

MR. CRAIG—I witnessed a most extraordinary phenomenon, this morning, about 4 o'clock. The atmosphere was filled with meteors, descending in different directions, but generally from the southeast, forming, with the horizon, an angle of from ten to fifteen degrees. The appearance was awfully grand and brilliant—it brought to remembrance the destruction of Sodom, as it literally rained fire from heaven; hundreds of fiery balls descended at once, of different sizes; many of them resembled rockets, descending, and left a brilliant trail for half a minute after the globe of fire became extinct. This rain of fire continued, after I saw it, nearly half an hour, with little abatement, and then gradually declined till break of day—I believe it commenced some time before I was out of bed. At the time, it was perfectly calm, the atmosphere clear, and the stars bright. A number of the meteors appeared to approach very near, if not to reach the earth, before they were extinguished.—A barn, on the farm of T. Sampson, deceased, with its contents, was burned this morning, about 5 o'clock, which was probably set on fire by one of them.—I wish some astronomer would account for this uncommon occurrence.——I am yours, &c.

JAMES GRAHAM.

Wilkins township, Nov. 13, 1833.

NULLIFICATION ELOQUENCE.

Among the papers which contributed, by its powerful but erroneous editorial, to make Andrew Jackson President, was the Charleston Mercury, always able, but frequently erring. That paper now levels all its energies at the President, and teaches him to know where to look for his bitterest opponent. We may remark that the papers which have opposed Gen. Jackson from his first nomination, have always maintained towards him a style evincing at least self respect; while those which almost outraged the rules of editorial propriety to obtain his election, have distinguished themselves by an equal degree of acrimony in opposition to him. We illustrate these remarks, by copying the following from an editorial article in the Mercury, of the 29th ult., possessing more of Southern eloquence than we have seen for many days. Would to God such writers were freed from the heresies of nullification!—United States Gazette.

"It is true, too, that the Kings have interfered always, and made their people their instruments, and sacrificed thousands of them, to support every tottering throne, whose fall threatened to endanger the cause of thrones in general, thus making the multitude shed their blood, to perpetuate their own thraldom. It is true, too, that, in this country, where the people govern themselves, that "the government" has proved something distinct from, superior to, and independent of, the people; that, having placed a rustic soldier in authority, who had not been spoiled by the refinements of books, the science of governing has been wonderfully simplified, the theoretical notion of the supremacy of the laws has been exploded, a sensibility to constitutional scruples has come to be regarded as an old womanish squeamishness, and our original old chief, though he has not discovered a royal road to learning, has found what pleases him better, a republican short cut to absolute power.—The untutored philosophy of the woods has told him that, with the national sword to clear his way, and hack down all opposition, and the national purse to pay his way, nothing can withstand him—and, as it has been borne upon his mind, by the inspiration of some unseen influence, that, as the people chose him to rule over them, they have, in so doing, placed him absolutely and entirely in their stead, and relieved themselves of all the trouble, and divested themselves of all the right of thinking or willing on their own account, and that they have infused the concentrated spirit of public sentiment into his heart and brain, so that he is himself 'the people,' and whatever he thinks they think—whatever he wills they must will."

Thus far going beyond all his predecessors in eliciting the occult excellencies of our political system, he has carried out Republicanism to its ultima thule, or vanishing point, where, as extremes meet, it meets the opposite extreme of absolute monarchy, and where, accordingly, we find him, through the mouth of his prophet AMOS, adopting the very appropriate language of the most despotic of French monarchs, 'L'Etat ce'st moi.' The State, that's me—'I am the nation.' 'The people, that is Andrew Jackson.' None ever dreamed that our 'complicated system' could be reduced to this perfection of beautiful simplicity and resistless efficiency; that the problem of popular self government could be reduced to so triumphant a solution. Here it is in a nutshell. 'The sword and the purse are the sword and the purse of the people—I am the people,' and I wield both purse and sword with unlimited discretion, (State checks and constitutional limits are obsolete notions proclamationized to annihilation,) surely, then, the popular will is omnipotent; the people, like the King, can do no wrong—this is perfection—the Union is compressed into a 'Unit,' and I am that great, multitudinous, infallible, ONE. To compare great things to small, the discovery of steam power was nothing to this, which carries on democracy conquering and to conquer, until it culminates into despotism itself. How characteristically bold and and direct have been the steps by which the impersonation of the American people has marched up to this apex! How consistently has he proceeded in the work of reform on the principle of revolution!

Our new government, he considered, was intended to be opposite, in all points, to the rotten governments of the old world—its success was intended to put to shame all formerly received political notions, and with the spirit of a thorough reformer, Andrew Jackson resolved that it should be, under his auspices, no timid, half way innovation. He proceeded on the principle of subversion and contrast—and adopted, as his motto, 'The last shall be first, and the first last.' As monarchical constitutions had been rejected, he turned all things regal upside down—made the end the beginning—and resolved that whatever had prevailed, as usage, in any other government, should find no favor in his. Thus, as force had been the last resort of kings, of course he could not imitate them; and as soon as a tempting occasion offered, he proved his thorough enmity to royalty, by making the 'ultima ratio regum' the 'prima ratio republicæ,' the first resort of a republican. Monarchs, even the bad ones, had been wont to surround themselves with wise and virtuous counsellors. Like a true republican, he, of course, reversed the rule, and numbered the unprincipled and mean among his friends and advisers.—The King of England is held irresponsible for the acts of his ministers. If they err, they take the responsibility. Of course, a republican King must scorn to have a ministerial screen before him. He thrusts his ministers aside, with honest roughness, and 'takes the responsibility.' It is by such a process that he has at length distilled the quintessence of democracy, and consummating a transmigration of the nation into himself, becomes, in and of himself, the omnipotence of the people.

AFFAIRS IN ALABAMA.

It is a remark, contained in a book still venerated in some portions of the Union, however lightly it may be esteemed at the Seat of Government, that—"the way of transgressors is hard." Among the hardships they are called upon to endure, is that of suffering under the consequences of their own misdoings. Had Andrew Jackson done his duty, and sustained the Cherokees in their rightful resistance to the aggressions of Georgia, he would never have been disturbed in the evening of his political life, by the troubles that now assail him from Alabama. To gain a point, infinitely undeserving of the sacrifice, he surrendered a principle that has involved the Government in difficulties which threaten to outlast his ill guided administration.

It appears from the papers we receive from the theatre of conflict, that the Grand Jury of Russell County, in the State of Alabama, have found bills of indictment against James Emmerson, James King, Frank Barger, and five others unknown, for the murder of Hardeman Owen, and against David Manning and Jeremiah Anstill, for the inciting to the commission of the said crime.

Col. Owen, it will be remembered, was one of the intruders, and, in the act of removing him, pursuant to the orders of the Secretary of War, he was slain. The eight individuals first mentioned as being indicted, were soldiers, and the two last civil officers, acting under the authority of the United States. All attempts to arrest these men, so as to make them subject to trial by the civil authorities of the State of Alabama, have been resisted by Major M'Intosh, Commander in Chief of the United States' Troops, at Fort Mitchell, in that State, and under whose authority the accused delinquents have acted. An attachment was issued by Judge Harris to arrest Major M'Intosh for contempt of Court, in resisting the execution of process against the soldiers, but that also was put at defiance, and the whole transactions are left to be decided by that most exceptionable and arbitrary of all tribunals—a Military Court Martial. Thus stand, at present, the relations between the United States and Alabama—a dilemma that has been produced by crooked policy, and which fair round dealing would have easily prevented.

The public documents, connected with this controversy, are altogether too voluminous for publication in this paper—unless, indeed, it should assume an aspect more formidable than we yet believe it will. In any event, however, we subscribe to the justice of the following declaration, of the "Kentucky Commonwealth," in regard to this Alabama affair:—"Whoever lives to see the end of all these things—when Nullification becomes paramount, and the great bond which binds the Union is broken in twain,—Whoever lives to see this, may and will recognize the present Executive of the United States as the great head of the offence."—N. Y. Com. Adv.

Philadelphia and Trenton Rail Road.—That portion of the Philadelphia and Trenton Rail Road, from the steam boat landing at Bristol, to the Delaware Bridge at Trenton, is now completed, and ready for use. On Thursday next, we understand, it will be opened formally by the Directors, with a proper accompaniment of a pleasant ride, and abundant good cheer to such friends of the enterprize as may be disposed to favor them with their company. The postponement to Thursday, instead of this day, as we announced last week, has been caused by an unexpected delay in procuring cars.

It is understood that, after the trial on Thursday, the Rail Road will be used by the People's Line, between Philadelphia and New York, and by Col. Reeside's Mail Stages.

We believe there is no example, in our country, of a Rail Road carried forward, with so much rapidity towards completion, as that to which he have referred. The work was commenced in April last, a little more than six months ago. Ten miles are now finished for use—on twelve more the grading, including four large Bridges, is in such forwardness, that six months will be sufficient to complete it. On the remaining four miles, no work has been done, owing to delay in assessing damages—but even that will be completed before the month of March. It is remarkable, also, that between Trenton and Morrisville, only three questions of damages with landlords remain unsettled, and, even in these cases, the Company have tendered the full amount assessed by the inquest.

It is confidently expected that the whole line, from Philadelphia to Trenton, will be entirely completed by the first of July next. When finished, it will be the straightest and most level line on the continent—perhaps in the world.—Phila. Herald, November 11.

STATE RIGHTS.—Pennsylvania is the only one of the good old thirteen United States that has never had one of her native citizens on the bench of the Supreme Court of the United States.

New Jersey is the only one of the good old thirteen United States that has never had one of her citizens abroad as a minister plenipotentiary of the United States.

Pennsylvania, New Jersey, North Carolina, Georgia, Connecticut, Rhode Island, and New Hampshire have never given either President, Vice President, or Secretary of State to the United States.

Virginia, New York, Massachusetts, and South Carolina have had six out of seven presidents, all the vice presidents, and eight out of ten secretaries of state.

Delaware has had more federal offices than North Carolina, and nearly as many as Pennsylvania.—Amer. Sent.

The editor of the Globe refused an exchange with Major Noah, and twitted him with being a Jew, and talked about selling old clothes. To which the Major made only a short reply, that he had given Blair two hundred dollars towards setting up the Globe. In the Star of Friday, the editor says—"We have received our $200 from Mr. Blair, of the Globe—received it back with as much pleasure ,as we paid it; although weare positively assured by the gentleman representing his interests here, that he knew nothing of our having contributed that sum to the purchase of his press.—We think if he had known it, his charging us with having dealt in old clothes would have been some hing premature."

It appears to us that the return of just two hundred dollars scarcely discharges the pecuniary part of the obligation. What becomes of the favor? However, we suppose the Globe man is irresponsible in a moral sense.—U. S. Gaz.

The Utility of Gloves.—Before the battle of Malplaquet, Marshal Villars requesting, by a flag of truce, a conference with some confidential officer of the Duke of Marlborough's,—Earl, then Colonel Cadogan, who was sent as envoy, taking advantage of the view thereby afforded of the enemy's entrenchments, dropped his glove at a particular spot, and directed the colonel of artillery, who attended him, to plant his cannon there in the night; which, by enfilading their lines the next morning, greatly contributed to the forcing of them, and ultimately to the victory.—Sharpe's Peerage.

Novelty.—It is well known that there are 5 candidates in the field for the gubernatorial chair; and may be thought singular that they can be so arranged as that the first letter of each shall spell the entire name of one. Read as follows—

A–dams,
D–avis,
A–llen,
M–orton,

The following dialogue took place between Dr. Dunlop and his man John, after a cold winter night:

Well, John, what kind of night have we had?

Why, your honor, it snew a little in the forepart of the night, but towards morning it frizz horrid.

Serpents.—There are not many serpents in Upper Abyssinia, and few remarkable animals of that class even in the lower countries, if we except a species of boa, commonly so called, which attains to the length of 20 feet. It feeds upon antelopes and the deer kind, which it swallows entire. Its favorite places of resort are by the sides of grassy pools of stagnant water, where it lies in ambuscade, ready to encircle, in its horrid folds, whatever quadruped approaches.

A remarkable and noted serpent of these parts, is the cerastes, or horned viper. It hides itself all day in holes in the sand, where it lives in little chambers, similar and contiguous to those of the jerboa. Bruce kept a pair of them in a glass jar for two years, without any food; they did not appear to sleep even in winter, and cast their skins early in April. This poisonous reptile is very fond of heat; for, however warm the weather might be during the day, whenever Bruce made a fire at night, it seldom happened that fewer than half a dozen were found burnt to death, by approaching too close to the embers.

British Army.—There were, at the end of the war, 576 general officers; there are now 419.—The pay of general officers on the staff is the same now as it was in 1685. Officers, it seems, grow old in all the subordinate ranks without getting promotion. There are—Colonels, 156—58 employed, 98 not; Lieutenant Colonels, 596—218 employed, and 378 not; Majors, 641—employed 316, not employed 325. The average service of the Colonels is 35 1-4 years, of the Lieutenant Colonels 33 years, of Majors 32 years; and they may be 78 years of age before they become Major Generals.

In 1829, the British and Foreign Bible Society had circulated, in twenty five years, eleven millions of copies of the Jewish scriptures, in one hundred and fifty languages. A calculation has been made that the cost of editing and printing was a million sterling; paper another million, and in binding £825,000; in round numbers fourteen millions of dollars.

Amongst a number of animals, lately arrived at the Garden of Plants, in the city of Paris, from Russia, is a very extraordinary species of ape, called Simiascoff. It is originally from Lapland, and naturally very ferocious. Its skin is of yellow hue, and variegated like the tiger; its teeth are very long and sharp, and its cry extremely piercing.

There was once, (says an Eastern apologue, related by a recent author,) in the days of Cheops, an Egyptian, who had a remarkable fine poultry yard in which were all the fowls of all the feathers that Egypt ever saw. One day, it so happened, that walking by the side of the Nile, the Egyptian espied an egg, which he immediately took up, and putting it in his breast, carried it home and hid it carefully in the nest of a setting hen. Twenty days after, on entering his poultry yard, to his great surprise, he found—nothing but feathers and a young crocodile, which instantly attacked him also. With great difficuly the Egyptian freed himself from the destroyer of his hens; and when he died, he directed in his will, that on the frontal bandage of his mummy there should be written—"Beware how you hatch a crocodile's egg in your poultry yard."

The moral of this apologue is most excellent,—and how admirably can it be applied to the present situation of our domestic national affairs! Did not the President, in his course in the Georgia controversy, "hatch a crocodile's egg in his poultry yard," which now, in Alabama, is threatening to fall upon and destroy him?—Alex. Gaz.

Mad Itch.—A disease, to which this name is given, it is stated, prevails amongst cattle in Indiana. The disease affects the head, causing such an itching that the animal keeps rubbing it against any hard substance it can find, until death ensues. No remedy has been found to give relief. We understand that a case of the above disease occurred, a few weeks since, near Washington, Franklin county. The afflicted animal was a milch cow, and, previous to her death, she had rubbed one ear entirely off! She was found dead, with her head in a stream of water, and the belief was that she had drowned herself in endeavoring to obtain relief from the cooling effects of the water.—Poulson.

Traits of Travel.—In a Boston paper, which lies before us, dated March 6th, 1769, advertised "to contain the freshest advices, foreign and domestic," the latest dates from Charleston, S. C., are of Feb. 7th, preceding, from Philadelphia, Feb. 16th, from N. York, Feb. 23d. It was about this time, we believe, that the individual, who carried the mail between this city and Providence, used to go on horseback, and, after traveling one day on the rout, spend the night at the termination of about three quarters of the journey. This fact we have from an old gentleman who was clerk in a Providence store at the period in question.—Boston Jour.

STANZAS—BY ROBERT S. COFFIN.

I love the man who well can bear
Misfortune's angry frown;
I love the heart that spurns despair,
Though all his friends have flown.

I love the soul so richly proud,
That misery cannot blight;
The soul that braves the jeering crowd,
And sternly claims its right.

I love that fortitude, refin'd,
Which sorrow cannot shake;
I love that strength of soul and mind
No earthly power can break.

I love the man who scorns to bend
Beneath affliction's blast;
Who trusts in an Almighty Friend,
To soothe his woes at last.

Extracts from the Review of the Philadelphia Market, ending Saturday evening, November 9, 1833—Collected for the U. S. Gazette, from actual sales.

COTTON—Arrived since our last report from Savannah, 136 bales. The sales consist of 25 bales new crop; Georgia Uplands at 17 a 17 1-2 cts., and 25 do. do. new and old do. at 15 1-2 a 17 cts., and about 130 bales N. Orleans at 15 a 16 1-2 cts., 4 and 6 mths., and 25 bales N. Carolina, new crop at 15 a 15 1-2 cts. Accounts from Liverpool to Oct 1st. and from Havre to Oct. 2d. Those markets were in a very depressed state, at the former, the sales of cotton were nearly suspended, and entirely so at Havre.

COFFEE—Since our last report, some transactions which have previously taken place have come to our knowledge; upwards of 1,000 bags St. Domino coffee has been taken at 12 a 12 1-2 cts., and is now shipping; 120 bags Rio coffee at 12 1-2 cts., 4 mths; 180 bags do. at 12 3-4 cts., 6 mths; 130 do. do. at auction, at 12 a 12 1-2 cts., 4 mths., and 60 bags Havana do., by private contract, at 11 cts., 4 mths., and small parcels of Laguira at 13 cts., 4 mths. The accounts from Havre, state that coffee was in fair demand.

FLOUR AND MEAL—The sales of Superfine flour during the week, amout to upwards of 3,000 barrels, at $5 75, at which price the market closed, with sales on Saturday; 150 barrels scraped flour at $5 50, and 550 barrels rye flour at $3 75.—There has been no sales of corn meal in hhds. or barrels reported; we quote at $3 3-8 for bbls. and $14 for hhds. and dull.

FISH—The enquiry for mackerel continues fair, and sales by the quantity are made at, for No. 1 at $6 5-8, No. 2 at 5 5-8, and No. 3 at $3 75 a $4.

MOLASSES—Sales of N. Orleans sugar house molasses at 42 1-2 cts.; Trinidad at 33 a 34 cts., and a small parcel of do. by auction at 33 cts.

PROVISIONS—The market for provisions is very calm; the only transactions reported are a few kegs Jersey lard, at 11 cts.; a parcel of tub butter not inspected at 11 1-2 cts.; and 240 do. inspected at 12 1-2 cts.

SUGARS—A small parcel of New Orleans sugar was sold at auction at 9 cents, 4 months; a few boxes white Havana sugar by private contract at 11 cts., and 30 hhds. Porto Rico sugar at 8 1-2 a 9 cents, 4 months, and 100 boxes Cuba brown at 8 cents.

WOOL.—The sales of the week, as far as reported, amount to 12,000 lbs. wool, at from 38 cts. for common to 73 cts. for prime.

WHISKEY, &c.—The last sales of whiskey in barrels was at 30 cts., and in hhds. at 28 1-2 cts.; 100 qr. casks sweet Malaga wine at 42 1-2 a 45 cts., 6 mths.; apple whiskey 25 cts., and N. Orleans rum 60, cts., 4 mths.

SCHUYLKILL SIDE—The last sales of flour was at $5 81, in small parcels to bakers; no sales of wheat reported; corn at 68 cts.; flaxseed at $1 60; about 80 hhds. whiskey delivered in the city 28 1-2 cents, and two parcels of about 90 barrels at 30 cents.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET, Oct. 26.

REMARKS.—The Mississippi remains at low water mark.

COTTON—Some difference of opinion exists as to the state of the market. Conclusions drawn from the prices and quality of the lots sold this week, compared with the transactions of the preceding, would appear to some persons to indicate a slight improvement in the prices of the finer qualities; but after diligent search, and satisfactory information, we give it as the decided opinion of the most experienced merchants and brokers, that there has been no change; if any, it has been in favor of buyers. The principal operations have been for France, and the demand still continues better for that market than for England, for the latter place there appears to be very little demand. The sales of the week have been viz: 1,000 bales fine marks, at 18; 700 bales, at 17 7-8; 1,091, at 17; 700, at 16 7-8; and a small lot, at 19 cts. per lb. round, the latter to class—all of Louisiana and Mississippi; and a lot of 150 bales Western District of Tennessee, at 15 5-8 cts. per lb. This description of Cotton is very scarce, and a merchant largely in the trade informed us that he believed that the best would command 17 cts. per lb. In general, it is said, that, so far, the staple of the present crop is not as good as that of last season, but that the color is better.

SUGAR.—The new crop is making its appearance in the market daily; holders of parcels of the old reduce their demands, and a few days more will establish something like a general price for the article; as things are we can only give flying reports. On plantation, near to the city, it is said that sales have been at 7 1-2. We know that small sales, in barrels, have been made, in the city, at 7 1-4 a 7 1-2, and a sale of 40 hhds. prime quality, at 7 cents. Other holders offer in barrels at 7 cts. per lb.

MOLASSES.—Our remarks on sugar may be as well applied to this article.

NEW YORK MARKET, Nov. 9.

Ashes $4 50 a $5 05. Large sale of Cuba white wax at 20c. lb. Coffee—Moderate sales, but more extensive shipments,—Cotton—Sales of the week 2,100 bales Upland at 15 a 15 1-2c. per lb. Fish keep up. Flour—Western 5 69 a 75, and fancy brands 81 cents. Hops have sold freely within a day or two at 22 a 24 1-2c. for 1st sort, 5 or 6,000 bales in all. Indigo—500 ceroons Guatemala were sold yesterday on terms not made known.

Sales Genessee Wheat at 120; Rye at 80 a 81 cts. Northern Corn at 74 a 75cts.; Barley 70 cts. 4,500 Rio Grande Hides sold at 14 3-8 cts.; 6,000 lbs. Ivory heavy teeth, sold at $1 30c. lb. Turpentine has gone up to the unusual price of $3 per brl., and Tar $2 12 1-2. The sales of Molasses are steady at prices, prime 34 a 34 1-2 cts. gal.; Oats without change; Sugar a shade better, sales Cuba browns at 5 3-4 for export, and 7 3-4 a 8 1-4 cts. for consumption; Salt, some large sales, prices not given. —Jour. of Commerce.

FAIRBANK'S PLATFORM SCALES.

THESE scales are constructed upon an improved principle; are fitted up with great care by the manufacturers, and warranted to weigh with accuracy from half a pound to 12,000. Being placed in, and forming part of, the floor, the process of weighing is performed with ease and facility, while the space they occupy may be improved as a passage way or for other purposes.

The construction of these scales is such that they are little liable to derangement of wear, and their perfect operation will be guaranteed for any reasonable length of time.

The usual objection, that a new method of weighing cannot be safely entrusted to unskilful hands, is obviated by the use of the improved BALANCE, concerning which are the following remarks in the Journal of the Frankiin Institute, of the state of Pennsylvania, for the promotion of the Mechanic Arts, for June, 1833. (Edited by Thos. P. Jones, M. D., late Superintendent of the Patent Office, at Washington, Professor of Mechanics in the Franklin Institute, &c.

"The Messrs. Fairbanks, some time since, obtained a patent for a Platform Weighing Machine, and this mode of adjuating and graduating the Beam of the Balance, and the weights, was devised by them with a view to its employment with the before mentioned machine. We have had an opportunity of examining one of their balances, and have been much pleased with it: this examination, however, was not necessary to the conviction that it possesses a just claim to the character of a real improvement, the whole arrangement being so simple as to enable any person to perceive that it is well adapted to the purpose contemplated, that of facilitating the business of weighing, and more especially of heavy articles."

The subscriber, as Agent, will receive orders for the above Scales, which will be made in this city to order. They can be seen at his Warehouse, No. 84, Front street.

SIX EGYPTIAN MUMMIES

In the Diamond, next door to the office of The Pittsburgh Gazette.

THE features of some of these mummies are in perfect expression—the hair of the head preserved as if now living. For the direct purpose of giving visitors, of all descriptions, that wish to see the ancients themselves, and likewise the bodies that were embalmed not less than three thousand years ago, this collection was exhibited to a numerous concourse of visitors, in the city of Philadelphia, for the space of 3 months; and next in Baltimore, in the Museum, for five weeks, where contract was only made for two weeks, and continued for five weeks by request. The inhabitants of this city, it is hoped, will call, and patronize a collection worthy the attention of the curious.

The proprietor is authorized to use the names of the most eminent physicians and professors in the city of Philadelphia, and likewise that of Baltimore.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscribers, Trustees of the New Philadelphia Society, at Phillipsburgh, Beaver county, Pennsylvania, offer for sale the following property, to wit:

1 tract of land	containing	330	acres
1	do	do	330
1	do	do	67
1	do	do	7
1	do	do	40
other lots, containing about			6

The above lands lie in one body, fronting about two miles upon the Ohio river—immediately opposite the mouth of Big Beaver creek, and the Beaver Division of the Pennsylvania Canal. The land is rich, and a part of it under a high state of cultivation—its location pleasant and healthy. The improvements upon the same are valuable, including the town of Phillipsburgh, late the residence of Count Leon, and the New Philadelphia Society. The town contains about 40 Dwelling Houses, now in order; some of them brick houses and two stories high. A large and spacious Hotel, a Store house, Church, a number of Shops, for mechanics, Stables, Barns, and other out houses. Also, two large new buildings, lately erected, but not yet finished, one of brick, the other of frame (the latter suitable for a manufactory) a very extensive public garden, and also fruit trees of various kinds. The property has also attached to it the right of a ferry across the Ohio, which is valuable, and becoming more so every day.

The above property is situated in the midst of a wealthy and prosperous country, distant about 28 miles below Pittsburgh, and one mile from Beaver, the seat of justice for Beaver county—and having a view for many miles up and down the Ohio, and of the country to a great distance around.

The subscribers are confident in saying that few situations could be found, presenting greater facilities to the farmer, mechanic, the manufacturer, and others—a soil rich and productive—the neighborhood abounding in coal—well timbered and watered, and, by means of the Pennsylvania Canal, and steamboat navigation, a cheap and ready conveyance to market, and a communication with other places is ensured.

The property is susceptible of divisions into farms, or for the location of new towns, or for the extension of the present one.

Should it not be sold on or before the first day of January next, it will then be offered at public sale, upon the premises, to the highest and best bidder.

It will be sold in a body, or in parcels, to suit purchasers.

Terms of sale will be reasonable.

Information can be had by enquiring of the subscribers, two of whom live in the neighborhood, and one on the premises.

PERIODICALS.

AMERICAN RAILROAD JOURNAL, and Advocate of Internal Improvements, which is designed as a repository of the accounts of the rise and progress of numerous works of Internal Improvement, in the United States particularly, and in other parts of the world generally. The work is published weekly, and forms a large octavo volume each year, of 832 pages of 3 columns each, for $3 per annum, in advance.

New York Farmer, and American Gardener's Magazine. This work is designed for the agriculturist, and will be found to contain much, both interesting and profitable, to those who cultivate the soil as a business, or merely a garden for amusement. Published in monthly parts of 32 large octavo pages, with three columns each, at $3 per annum, in advance.

Mechanics' Magazine, and Register of Improvements and Inventions. To the Mechanics of the United States—In this populous and enlightened country, almost every description of persons can obtain knowledge and amusement connected with their peculiar pursuits, through the medium of the Journal or Magazine, especially devoted to their interests. The Theologian, the Farmer, the Philosopher, the Sportsman, and even the Plough Boy, has each his Journal, where he can find a record of the passing events of the day, connected with his peculiar avocations and recreations. Hitherto, the Mechanics (who form a large and most important portion of the community) have had no Journal, to which they could turn, with the certainty of finding that information they desire, no periodical of which they could say: 'This is ours, and for us.' In the hope that the attempt to supply such a want at a price so reasonable as to be within the reach of all, will meet with your active support, the subscriber proposes to publish, on the first day of each month, a Mechanics' Magazine. It will contain a well digested selection of the most useful and interesting articles in the London Mechanics' Magazine, London Register of Arts and Sciences, Repertory of Inventions, Library of Useful Knowledge, Journal of the Franklin Institute, and other works, connected with the arts and manufactures, published in this country and in Europe, accompanied with numerous and well executed Engravings. Its pages will be open for the communications of all, and especially for those of the practical artisan, to whose interest it will be particularly devoted. The Mechanics' Magazine will contain, also, a due portion of the occurrences of the month, Scientific and Literary Reviews of Books, Anecdotes, Economical Receipts, Reports of the state of Mechanics' Institutions, and other Scientific Societies in this state and other countries. To be published monthly. Each succeeding number will contain 64 pages, handsomely printed, and stitched in a neat cover. Six numbers will form a volume, for which an index and title page will be supplied, and also a Portrait of some distinguished Mechanic, as a Frontispiece. Terms, $3 per annum, in advance.

SATIN BEAVER HAT MANUFACTORY,

NO. 6 ST. CLAIR STREET,
PITTSBURGH.

WILSON & SMITH, from N. York,

RESPECTFULLY inform the citizens of Pittsburgh and the neighboring towns, that they have commenced the manufacture of the above beautiful and elegant article, so much admired and worn throughout Europe, and the principal cities in the United States.

W. & S. beg leave to observe, that, after various experiments, they have at last succeeded in bringing this Hat to the highest state of perfection, and they can assert, with confidence, that in point of color, lightness, elasticity, durability, and general beauty of appearance, they cannot be surpassed by the most expensive Hat that is made. Gentlemen are invited to call and examine them, and judge for themselves.

Wholesale Dealers supplied at the same prices as in the New York markets.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S

☞ WELCH MEDICAMENTUM. ☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

Utica, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer s vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞ A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes giving temporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradually increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

TYPE FOUNDRY.

HAVING purchased of Mr. Richard Ronaldson, his long established and very extensive Type Foundry, the subscribers have formed a co-partnership for the purpose of continuing said business, and for the convenience of their friends and patrons, have removed their establishment to a more central part of the city. As it is their intention to keep on hand a good assortment of the best type, and to make such additions and improvements as the taste of the trade and the wants of the country require, they flatter themselves that this establishment will merit a large share of patronage. They have now several founts on hand, which can be furnished at a few hours' notice, and are prepared to make founts of all weights and sizes, from Pearl to 22 lines Pica, including a variety of Ornamental Letter. Their assortment of Cuts, Dashes, Brass Rule, and other Ornaments, will be found to be very extensive, of which specimens will be forwarded to Printers as soon as they can be prepared.

Printing Presses of every description, Printing Ink of the most approved qualities, Composing Sticks, Brass and Common Galleys, Chases, Imposing Stones, Cases, Paper and Press Boards, Standing Presses, Furniture, together with a complete assortment of all articles used in a Printing Office, will be kept constantly on hand.

Small founts, suitable for Book Binders, in great variety, may be had when called for.

Orders from all parts in the Union will be promptly and most carefully attended to, and particularly in supplying sorts for all founts furnished by their predecessors, Binny & Ronaldson, and Richard Ronaldson.

PATENT PLANING MACHINE.—The right to use this valuable machine, invented and patented by William Woodworth, and known as Woodworth's Patent Planing Machine, may be obtained on application to the subscriber for the counties of Allegheny, Butler, Beaver, Washington, Green, Fayette, Somerset, Cambria, Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, M'Kean, Warren, Venango, Mercer, Crawford, and Erie, in the State of Pennsylvania. That part of Maryland lying west of the Blue Ridge; all that part of Virginia lying west of the Blue Ridge, except the county of Ohio. The whole of the state of Ohio except the counties of Hamilton, Butler, and Montgomery. The whole of the state of Kentucky, except the counties of Jefferson, Boone, Oldham, Gallatin, and Campbell. The whole of Indiana, except the counties of Floyd, Clark, Jefferson, Dearborn, and Switzerland. The whole of the state of Illinois, and the territory of Michigan. Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the farm on which he lives, in Washington county, on Pigeon creek, one mile south of Williamsport, on the Monongahela river, to which there is a perfectly level road. This farm contains near 400 acres, the greater part of which is first rate land. There is on the premises a Brick Dwelling House, a Merchant mill, in good repair, a new saw mill, a stone still house, 35 by 40 feet; a salt works is also in operation, and worked to advantage; about 150 acres of land cleared and under good fence. There is on the premises three small tenements for the accommodation of families. This tract is well timbered, and abounds with stone coal and springs of water, both of the best quality.

To a person wishing to embark in a manufacturing business, and possessing capital, this would be a very desirable situation, having the advantage of both water power from Pigeon creek, and banks of the very best coal near to the works, and easy of access, and its vicinity to so navigable a river where articles of any kind are so cheaply transported to Pittsburgh.

For further particulars, apply to James P. Stuart, Merchant, Wood street, Pittsburgh, or to the subscriber on the premises.
